– – – The stitching on the seating cushion for technological reasons.

1. Covering material used in production may gathering, stretch slightly and take on a utilitarian appearance but this change doesn't reduce the quality of use in any way.

2. In corner arrangements, there may be a difference in the shade of the fabric between the corner element and other elements of the furniture (resulting from the fabric cutting technology).

3. The colors and textures of the cushions apply to the respective pictogram.
