Panorama

Designer: Fabrice Berrux

"I hope that Panorama will create connections: it was designed specifically to create collective spaces, islands of comfort, protective cocoons to lie back on freely. Its geometry is a stimulus to the combination of diverse elements to transform the living area into the warmest and most welcoming of environments," explains Fabrice Berrux, the designer of the Panorama sofa. The Panorama collection of padded products is based on a specific item which can be considered to be the real unit of measurement of the system: the hexagonal pouf which, when fitted with armrests and a backrest, becomes an armchair which, in turn, can be combined with additional armchairs and sofas to achieve the most diverse configurations. Customisation and creativity reach their utmost expression here, and the results that can be achieved are absolutely unprecedented. The upholstery, in fabric or leather, is fully removable and is characterised by a particular quilting on the seat.
